The Rock Opera

The Rock Opera

oG The Rock Opera (oG pronounced like “dog” without the “d”) oG is a story that takes place on another planet similar to Earth. This story is about a couple that survives a cataclysm and succeeds at finding love and purpose. For more, read “The Story of oG” that follows. oG The Rock Opera was written, composed, recorded, mixed and produced by Daniel Joseph Toth.

oG was performed by Wizard Moon. The Wizard Moon players are:

Sam Fuqua (pronounced Few qwa) – Bass guitar

Brad Rickert – Keyboards

Sarah Anne – Vocals

Konrad Kumkli (Pronounced Koom lee) – Vocals, Guitars

Daniel Toth (Pronounced like “Both” but with a “T”) – Vocals, Guitars, keyboards, Saxophones, Percussion Loops

JoDow sung by Sarah Anne

Thaeirie sung by Konrad Kumkli

Ames/oG sung by Daniel Toth oG was started in 1995. I made the decision to combine a book I was writing with songs that I was composing. I was originally thinking I would complete this Album in a year or two. However, I had only one acoustic guitar. I not only needed to compose songs but acquire instruments, gear and develop a recording studio. So it took me a little longer than I thought. At any rate, by the end of 2022, oG The Rock Opera was ready for mastering, graphics and production.

oG is a story told through music and lyrics. I am a fan of concept albums and rock operas of the late 1960’s and early 70’s prog rock. Hence this rock opera was written in the same style. Get comfortable, listen, and read the lyrics if you wish.

Thanks to the players in Wizard Moon for being so generous with their time and talents. They mean so much to me. I consider them all family. Thanks to my kids for putting up with my obsession in writing a rock opera. Last but not least, I want to thank Deb, my soul mate and partner of 23 years who has supported me with love, advice, and encouragement.

Enjoy.... Daniel

The Story of oG © by Daniel Joseph Toth

On another planet similar to our own, called Mir, in an intricate, stressful culture, Ames, a high power executive, begins to have nightmares. He decides to get away into the mountains and convinces his wife JoDow to go with him. They hike high into the peaks, and while there, the planet's poles shift, Tectonic plate movements create huge earthquakes, and oceans rush in to cover much of the land. Ames and JoDow survive on the highest peaks. They hike for days thinking they will die. When Ames is ready to give up, JoDow convinces him to go on. Finally, Ames and JoDow find a group of people living in small shacks who have come together in a place they call New Town. Ames then wants to know why he survived. They barely survive the winter, and know they must find another place to live. It is spring and a good time to travel. Ames volunteers to make the dangerous quest over sheer rock faces and jagged peaks to look for a new home. He also wants to find himself and know his purpose in life.

With many injuries, surviving an "impossible climb", Ames arrives at Thaeirie's (teh-ree's) house where he is welcomed and healed. Thaeirie breeds and raises flying horses; the baby horses psychically bond with whoever they first see at birth. Thaeirie gifts a baby horse to Ames (who names it Seagull) to help him on his journey. While at Thaeirie's house Ames has many spiritual discussions with people who come and go. His message, that love is what has always allowed people to survive, and love will allow them to live in this new reality. The visitors leave and spread the story of a spiritual leader they have met. As Ames name is repeated, it changes to "oG" and his reputation as a spiritual leader grows..

Summer comes, and Ames must continue on to find a new place for his community; he leaves Thaeirie's house alone as Seagull is still too young to travel. During his journey, Ames has been seeking a spiritual teacher to help him understand why he survived. As he travels people speak of oG. When Ames hears of oG, not knowing it is himself, he decides oG is the one he is looking for and must find him.

When Ames reaches the edge of a long waterway he is given a sailboat, named Dragonfly, by friends of Thaeirie's. He is told of a town at the waterways end, "Edgewater"; a possible new home. Ames must sail through dangerous territory controlled by the "Imes" (as in I-me), who are evil cannibals. For 3 days he sails safely on Dragonfly and feels invincible. Meanwhile, during the many months since Ames departure, JoDow's strong spirit has kept the people of New Town alive and hopeful, despite not knowing if Ames is still alive.

Arriving at the town called Edgewater, Ames is welcomed by their leader, Eliana DuMer, and her people. Ames shares the desperate need for a new home for his community. He imparts how love has been expressed over lifetimes, and love is what has inspired people to survive. The people of Edgewater decide to accept the people of New Town. At the same time, there is the growing awareness that Ames' spiritual philosophy (To Love is to survive) matches that of the man known as oG. The people of Edgewater and Ames himself come to the realization that Ames is in fact the one called oG. Ames/oG also realizes that all he needed to do was to look inside himself to find the truth, to know himself and his purpose.

oG must again sail Dragonfly up the waterway through the Imes' territory. This time he is not so lucky. The Imes chase him in swift boats, surrounding him as he climbs to the top of the highest point on a rocky island. oG thinks he is going to die. But Seagull has matured and grown into his wings. Knowing oG is in danger through the psychic intuition that connected them at birth, he arrives to save him, and carries oG to Thaeirie's house. oG must spend the winter there due to the incredibly high winds that prevent further travel. As spring arrives, oG departs for New Town on Seagull, where JoDow has been leading the people and holding the vision of his return. oG walks the final stretch home so as not to alarm the people of New Town. While walking, oG contemplates the meaning of love. Ames/oG and JoDow are lovingly reunited with joy and tears. oG tells his story, revealing the happy news that Edgewater will become their new home. A celebration ensues for the entire community.....

A culture that distracts Ames from being who he truly is

2-Intricate City © (3:14) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

I'm Drowning in a Clock Cage decorated like home.
Camouflaged in a Status Cape In a Daydream I think I own.
Funny feeling about today, Gotta, Gotta get away.
Last night I could not sleep. I talked in my dreams for hours.
Let's go up to the mountains. Away from the anger, the tears.
This is an Intricate City. Creating so many fears!
Ames! I can't Go! I'm not lazy!
I can't just skip out of work. What! Do you think I'm crazy?
I said OK, and put some food in my pack, and took it out to my car. I was already missing JoDow, and I heard the phone. Ran in, picked it up on the final ring.
Ahhh. JoDow's voice was a beautiful thing. Wait! I'm going. I have to follow my heart. I want to be with you. So now, when do we start?
I was awake in a Dream. My mind was tossed. Felt like I didn't know my home, Identity lost. We climbed & climbed & climbed & climbed, till we became one with the sky!
I Need to find my way home. I Need, I Need, I Need to find my way.
I Need to find my way back home again!

Fate & change create opportunity for Ames to find himself

Awareness that life is love, purpose & destiny

4-On this Rock © (5:24) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

When it all stopped and they stood up,
It was surreal to see an ocean where dry land use to be.
The only reason they were alive,
was because they climbed to these highest peaks.
Some day, I'll find my way, back home again.
And when I do, It will be with you for ever, for ever more.
Cataclysmic Planet Confused Reality
They did not understand that destiny just took them to where they were meant to be.
As I sit here on this rock, I look out at the ocean far and wide.
And then I turn to I turn to my friend, who sits by my side.
Then I.... I look into his eyes but I don't know what I see.
All I know is I see two beautiful eyes looking back at me.

5-Searching for Survival © (4:11) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

Surviving in a new world as strangers from yesterday.

To love is to survive to survive to survive is to love.

Ames fell down said, "Come hold me. It's time to die with you"

I look into Myself, Heart on Canvas in Pinks & Green. I See my Soul,

It Looks back at Me. I know exactly what it means. I said come with me, oh, and you will see that we are the survivors. Stay with me.

Oh please be with me. We are the survivors. Ooooouuu

A Place in our heart that manifests healing, love & security

6-New Town © (2:20) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

On the 21st day as the sun was setting, we thought we were going to die.

We kept on searching in hopes of finding a way to survive.

The sun was setting in the crimson sky. I could feel my life leaving.

When we spotted smoke rising through the clouds on the sunset of this glorious evening.

Four shacks in the mountains all with fires burning.

Would they let us in or would they leave us yearning.

There's got to be a reason why I'm alive. Why oh Why?

There's got to be a reason why I survived. Why oh Why?

I just wish I knew!

New Town New Town. Not just a home but a family we found.

New Town New Town. We were saved by community.

The one thing, the one thing that holds people together is love.

The one thing, the one thing that holds people together is love.....Right Now!

Ames decides to challenge himself by pursuing his identity

9-Seasons-Spring © (1:24) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

All the snow has all gone away. But it'll come back again some day.
All the leaves on the trees are green, and all the animals are in love it seems. Ah the springtime. Walk'n through the Aspen trees feeling fine. All the rivers rush in fury just for you and I.....
Let your Tears flow... and then Let Go.....
Listen.....and Know... We will Survive.....

Ames & JoDow let go of ego & security in exchange for self discovery

Attention to intentions & purpose manifests desires and needs

11-Thaeirie's House © (3:04) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

It's unrealistic to make the impossible climb. Fingerprint on a rock is why Ames was alive. Destiny unfolds golden carpets not his imagination, of course. My Home, with meadows, filled with the flying horse.
I set his broken bones, put stitches in his skin.
"Ames, when you heal, your true journey begins."

Seagull represents unconditional love

12-Seagull © (3:55) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

Any day there'll be a birth of an ancient soul. The lifeline and the story of the winged horse is old. How they bond and attach to the first person they see. They bond psychically for life and this you'll see, with emotion and fierce loyalty.
Psychic intuition all of these creatures have.
They know when you are happy, need help and when you're sad.
Psychic intuition, they'll keep track of you.
When they learn to fly, they will find you.
I want you to be the first one the winged horse sees. Take it as a gift it will help and set you free. It will help you and the people of New Town.
Take them to a new home once it's found.
Help them to a new home once it's found.
The day came. The Mare bore her son. The very first day of the ancient way of connecting to the one. First person Seagull saw at birth was Ames. His Bonded friend gave him his name, Seagull!!
His birth a sacred worth for all.
Psychic intuition, all of these creatures have.
They know when you are happy, need help and when your sad.
Psychic intuition, they'll keep track of you.
When they learn to fly, they will find you.

Ames true self was seen by others but remained hidden to Ames

13-The Story of oG © (4:30) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

On a flying horse a man arrived at Thaeirie's house, and met Ames from far away.
Ames story taught how to find glory in all his remaining days.
I've seen my children born. I saw my father die.
I lost my sons in the floods and saw rainbows in the sky.
So much pain yet so much joy.... my heart has always soared.
Singing with the Angels, while I slept. They laughed with me.
They cried with me. Wrapped their wings around me as I wept.
One thing I know I must do before I die;
Love..... like these Angels... Love..... like these Angels...
Man traveled and told Ames lesson to all, and as the story was told from person to person again and again, the name of the teacher changed.
Overnight name became legend. Known and shared by all.
For everyone now the name was..... oG!
Ames left Thaeirie's house and heard about the teacher oG.
Not knowing it was himself, he said,
"this is who I'm looking for! He can tell me why I survived and Who. Who.... am I" Who am I?..... Who, who am I?.....
Who am I?.....

JoDow taught inner strength is needed to survive

14-Seasons-Summer © (1:14) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

The breeze blowing through the green leaves.
Sitting in the shade by the sun.
By the glistening moving river. Thinking of Ames, us having fun.
Ah the summer, Feeling the warm and soothing breeze.
Bringing back my memories of being with you.....
Feel your power within..... Hear your inner voice....
Listen..... You share the power with the wind....

When we follow our path & purpose, things we need come to us

15-Dragonfly © (3:57) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

At the waters edge, Ames made some friends.
They gave him a boat named Dragonfly.
A swift boat you will need or on your flesh the Ime's will feed!
The Ime's land is the way you're going.
Raw Flesh of Others or Each Others Bones.
In Selfish Greed Separate and Stand Alone.
As they cry to the gleaming black of the aging stainless blade, that pierced their virgin souls

We are wrapped in light and wisdom that guide us in confidence

1-Invincible © (3:13) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

I'm on the second day of three days under sail.
I can taste the vision....I will not fail.
I am Invincible. I am Invincible. I am Invincible Today. Ohh-O-Oh
I can feel the future. Smell the sounds. I can touch mystery with my eyes, Intuition found. Power glows inside me with every breath.
Love unfolds with mindfulness.
I am Invincible. I am Invincible. I am Invincible Today. Ohh-O-Oh

Ames search for oG was a search for his unknown self

2-Where is oG? © (3:18) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

I have arrived, just like in my vision. The shore of Edgewater a distant land. A silent crowd that tried to understand.
I can hear his voice inside. Where is oG? I must find him.
(I must find him.) I can hear his voice inside.
Destiny hidden in desires. Lies truth, purpose, glowing fires.
Defines the whole, no puppet, no wires.
Eliana the leader of this place, accepted me with love and grace.
I can hear his voice inside. Where is oG? I must find him.
(I must find him.) I can hear his voice inside.

Ames inner strength & wisdom as oG is revealed

3-Come on all of you © (3:45) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

Come on all of you, listen to this tune. It is a song that makes you remember, the morning love song blooming. Like a flower in the Sun, that has just begun to understand what it's like to love.
Wisdom in a Love Song Handed down from Long Ago. (repeat 4x)

Shows both JoDow's sadness and her great power of intention

4-When I Wake Up in the Morning © (4:39)

Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

I miss my lover today. I missed my lover yesterday.
I know I'll miss him tomorrow. I'm looking forward to the day.
When I look out at the hillside and I see Ames coming home to me.
I have my friends and the community, but I still feel alone and empty.
I feel deep inside that he will find his way home. Sure, the rumors say that, that he is dead. But I just find the strength within my heart, to feel his love instead. Out of Darkness Dawn, Blue bird song.
Keeps my Heart from Weeping. Holding Beauty, Visions Keeping, Holding Love, Wakes my Soul from Sleeping.
When I wake up in the morning, I look outside at a bluebird start to sing.
And the song sets me free. But then I remember that Ames is gone.
I miss his touch, I miss his song. Oh how I long to kiss him.....

JoDow's love & leadership keeps the families of New Town alive

5-Seasons – Fall © (0:59) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

Gazing over the water into the east. Reflection of the golden leaves.
Ah the beautiful fall leaves, rustling in a crispy breeze.
This too shall pass..... As we are just passing through.....
We will find a home.... Know this is true.....

We fulfill our needs through love and acceptance

6-Edgewater © (2:33) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

Edgewater is the place. It's time to celebrate.
All of us join together, we are one.
This place gives power to be. Path, Purpose, Identity.
Have faith today and tomorrow. Feel truth, let go of our sorrow.
New place together strong. A place of power grows in song.
Sing to the Rising. Sing to the Rising. Sing to the Rising Sun.
Edgewater is the place. It's time to celebrate.
All of us join together, we are one.

It becomes apparent that Ames is oG

7-Ames Is oG! © (0:29) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

Ames is grasping what others see. He found himself, Reality.
He knew the truth, Transformation, Ames was oG, Realization.

Ames realizes that all he had to do was look inside to know himself

8-Realization © (2:36) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

All this time. All I had to do, was look inside, and see the truth.
I thought I had to find it from another voice. To look within Right Choice.
The truth is always always, The truth is always always,
The truth is always always, for me to be.
Now I know, I am the teacher, teaching me, what I'm meant to be.
I realize, who I am. Time to go home, to my Friends.
The truth is always always, The truth is always always,
The truth is always always,
for me to be, for me to be, for me to be!!

Hate, greed & anger attempt to destroy love and wisdom

9-Chased by the Ime's © (3:47) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth Predator chase, fool the other! Eat the flesh while they call him brother!

oG on an island without a chance. Tearing the soul is like tearing the flesh!
Climb to the top to postpone his death. Hundreds have encircled around him. Getting closer with every panting breath.
Pushing down others to see themselves high. Rise from blood, finding joy, to see a person die. See themselves, no one else. Illusions stand above, a shining blade, corrodes with blood, void of love. "I'm going to Die!
Trapped on top Death before my Eyes!" I'm going to die! I'm going to die!!!

Unconditional love rescues oG from hatred, greed & anger

10-Rescue © (2:43) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

Seagull was approaching folded wing descent.
Evident to the Ime's, the winged horse intent.
With precision, Seagull rescued oG!
Soul Mates find a way without knowing. Help each other, Love flowing.
When your path leads to trouble...Other paths lead back to you.
Destiny unfolds in perfection. It's what your meant to do.
oG and Seagull flew back to Thaeirie's house.
To fly in the wicked winter winds was a risk.
oG and Seagull would wait for spring to fly the jagged cliffs.

JoDow's Inner strength projects power and love

11-Seasons-Winter © (1: 04) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

Ah the winter snow, Glistening in a full-moon glow.
Diamond beauty all across the way. I wish Ames were here to play.
Hold on to this beauty...You are stronger than you think.....
Keep your steady flow.....Feel your strength.....

oG will return to Thaeirie's house & has found self love

All the snow has all gone away, but it'll come back again some day.
Ah the springtime. Walk'n through the Aspen trees feeling fine.
There is something different in the Leaves.... A window opens.....
I can feel it. We are not alone..... We are going home.....

oG is grateful for universal love & his love for JoDow

14-The Meaning of Love © (1:52) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

Picture projected from my Heart. Realization Is just the start.
I ask a question, a thought to myself; Why is love my greatest wealth?
Walking down the riverside head'n home.
Wondering why I'm feeling so alone.
Maybe it's because I don't have the love I'm used to.
Oh baby that's why I can't wait to get home to you...
I need to give my love to everyone.
Let it blossom like a flower in the morning sun.
The truth is always, inside myself. Love is truly my greatest wealth!
Love is truly my greatest wealth!

The Soul Flies: It Finds its Own Path and Purpose

Lovers reunite-one single tear represents joy & oneness of love

15-One Loving Tear © (3:06) Written by Daniel Joseph Toth

I express my feelings. It soothes my Soul. My heart speaks. Stories told.
As I lay here, my lover by my side, years of memories, we're still alive.
As I realize the love, a tear rolls down my face. Allows the Joy.
As Love shines bright, I shed a tear. One Loving Tear tonight.
A message this tear sings; Feel the Love In Everything.
Our greatest friends, and family, are sent to us to fulfill our needs.
As I realize the love, a tear rolls down my face. Allows the Joy.
As Love shines bright, I shed a tear, One Loving Tear tonight.

The expression and celebration of the joys of being alive
